

Retailer FAQs

What's new?

The launch of Ingram Wholesale Services in the UK supports booksellers who wish to buy in pounds (GBP) from our UK operation in Milton Keynes on a wholesale basis. Retailers will soon be able to order wholesale stocked books and Lightning Source Print-on-Demand (POD) titles from a single source.

How will this new business benefit booksellers?

Booksellers will benefit from access to up to 10 million titles, available to order directly from Ingram at wholesale terms. This includes a curated list of popular UK titles stocked in our warehouse, content exclusively distributed by Ingram, and books manufactured on demand. Orders received by noon will be dispatched the next working day.

When will Ingram Wholesale Services launch in the UK?

The service will launch in September 2022. Booksellers who already order from Ingram Wholesale Services in the US will initially be able to order from the new UK operation using our EDI ordering systems, with our ipage® ordering portal following soon afterwards.

What terms are available?
